LUNCHEON SPEAKER: Professor John Perry. He will discuss a number of issues concerning retirement from a philosophical (and a retired) point of view. Is one entitled to retire? Is one obliged to retire? Is it irrational to work harder in retirement than one did while employed? Is retirement the time to find meaning in human existence, or quit trying? Is there something wrong with you if you don't want to sit on the beach or go fishing? What's the rational way to look forward to, or worry about, senility? Is retirement a good time to delve in to the philosophy books you put off reading when you were younger? If so, which ones? Should all of us children of the 60s be marching on Washington? And what should we do when we get there?

TITLE OF TALK: "HOW CAN PHILOSOPHY HELP IN RETIREMENT?"

BIOGRAPHY: Professor John Perry, is a retired philosophy professor. He was born in Nebraska in 1943; earned his B.A. from Doane College and his Ph.D. at Cornell. He moved to California in 1968, and since then has taught at UCLA, Stanford, UC Riverside and UC Berkeley, retiring from Stanford after almost forty years in 2008. He's written books on personal identity, the problem of evil, the philosophy of language and the philosophy of mind and, the most popular one, The Art of Procrastination. He is the co-creator and longtime co-host, with Ken Taylor, of the public radio program "Philosophy Talk". John and Frenchie Perry have been married 55 years; they have 3 (very) grown children and 10 grandchildren.

Thank you to Mrs. Vicky Jared who is the outgoing Activities Chair for the EX-Ls and has worked for over 13 years behind the scenes making the luncheons possible, organized additional activities and made board members jobs easier. She has made the transition into this job easier because she is so organized, cheerful and helpful. I am stepping into big shoes and I want to thank Vicky, and the board for their hard work and patience during this transition.

I am requesting help from the members of the EX-Ls organization to help me with smaller jobs, that can be done the day of the luncheon such as: setting up name tags, acting as greeters, photographer, misc. I am also exploring working with Cary and the UC retirement center to provide other social events for our members. I would love input on how we can get together in other venues for fellowship, learning and fun. Have an idea??? Please send me a note. kathy.bjornstad73@gmail.com

Thank you Vicky and I truly appreciate all of the time you spent getting me up to speed. I look forward to seeing you at future luncheons. We are indebted to you for all of your years of service to EX-Ls.

Kathy Bjornstad and the EX-Ls Board Members
