What's News

This edition of The CenterPiece brings you many opportunities to learn, enjoy and participate as the Center continues to form collaborations with campus and community partners.

Currently we are working on a unique partnership with Cal Corp, the university's public service center. Our first effort provides a chance for you to work with Cal students to make a difference in the lives of K-8 youth. We are also relaunching the Retiree Work Opportunities (RWO) program, which was recently front-page news in the San Francisco Chronicle business section (p.5).

The Center was also featured in the article, "Continuing the Connection: Emeriti/Retiree Centers on Campus", co-authored by Center Director Shelley Glazer, in the May edition of the Journal of Educational Gerontology.

In our Center-Sponsored Events section, you will find that we uphold our summer tradition of featuring events that highlight the campus and its environs. This summer, we offer a docent-led "behind the scenes" tour of the Hearst Museum of Anthropology and a stroll through Berkeley's Poetry Walk, led by former U.S. Poet Laureate, Robert Hass. You are also invited to an education session on long-term care insurance or to take advantage of one of our excellent computer classes (p.4-5).

Although summer has historically meant a lull in campus activity, this is changing. In our On Campus section, we highlight some of the programs and events that may be of interest, including Summer Sessions' Senior Audit Card, classes at the ASUC Art Studio and an invitation to hear performances of the Young Musicians'

Program. Retirees are also invited to be part of Cal's team at the SF AIDS Walk (p.6).

As always, our Cal Connections section lists the ways that the Center has arranged for you to maintain campus access by using your retiree ID card (p.2-3). An additional summer bonus is found on page six, a 20% savings on clothing, gifts or general books at the Cal Student Store.

Finally, page seven is dedicated to the activities and accomplishments of both local and statewide UC retiree and emeriti associations. These organizations serve you by ensuring that the UC retirement benefit systems stay secure and intact, and are well worth your consideration for membership.

Arrivals and Departures...

The Center's Policy Board is integral to its operation. For the past four years, Professor Emeritus Lawrence Waldron has generously provided of his time and wise leadership as board chair. He is now stepping down. With gratitude, we thank him for his service. We welcome new board chair Louise Taylor, Director Emerita from the Chancellor's Office.

We also welcome three new staff members: Gloria Parra, a 10-year veteran of UC, will direct the Retiree Work Opportunities program and the Center's 8-week Pre-Retirement Planning program (PRP); Lana Buffington, a 24-year campus veteran, will take the lead on volunteer initiatives and special projects; and Mark Hayden will complete our administrative services team.

Finally, we note the passing of Professor Emeritus Adrian Kragen. Among his vast accomplishments and contributions to Cal, Adrian's determination to establish a retirement center at Cal led to the Center's initial budget in 1990 and to its prime location in Boalt Hall.

Center Expands Email Options through the Cal Retirement Center Network (CRCN)

Free email forwarding and a Calmail account that can be used with a DSL or cable connection are the two newest additions to the Center's CRCN program.

For a one-time set-up charge of $10.00, CRCN E-Mail Forwarding provides a service that automatically forwards messages addressed to your "berkeley.edu" email address to the in-box of any email address you choose. This service is for those who want to keep a berkeley.edu email address, but want to use, or are already using, another email service such as Yahoo!, Earthlink or Comcast. For example, if you now have an account with Yahoo!, your email addressed to "you@berkeley.edu" will arrive at you@yahoo.com. There is no cost for this service.

CRCN CalMail, is for users of broadband (e.g., DSL, Cable) and other Internet connections, who want to keep a full service email account through the campus. For an annual flat fee of $60.00 and a one-time set-up fee of $10.00, you will get a CalMail account with a "berkeley.edu" email address, 100MB of email storage, vacation forwarding and Connecting at Berkeley (C@B) consulting support, which includes software, updates, and technical support by email or phone.

The Center's ongoing email and Internet service, CRCN SHIPS, is also still available for $13.00 per month, with a one-time $10.00 set-up fee, and includes unlimited Internet access through the campus Subscription Home IP Service (dial-up modem connection), a CalMail account with a berkeley.edu email address, software and consultation services.

Detailed information sheets and application packets regarding these services are available at the Center.

Long-Term Care Insurance Counseling

Before purchasing a long-term care insurance policy, it is important to understand all the issues you must consider. The Center has arranged for free, one-on-one sessions with a community expert from the Health Insurance Counseling and Advocacy Program (HICAP). This is a state-funded program that provides unbiased professional assistance to insurance consumers. To make a confidential appointment, call the Center.

WORKSHOPS AND TOURS

Berkeley's Poetry Walk with Robert Hass, UC Berkeley Professor of English and Former US Poet Laureate

Wednesday

August 10

10am-Noon

Robert Hass will lead a tour along Berkeley's Poetry Walk located on Addison Street in downtown Berkeley. Poems selected by Hass are engraved on 100 square enameled panels in the sidewalk along both sides of the street. These panels form a path that meanders by the Aurora Theater, Berkeley Rep, Capoeira Café, the Berkeley Jazz School and the new home of Freight and Salvage. This collection of poems, translations of poems, and song lyrics were selected by Hass to reflect something of the social and literary history of Berkeley. Included are: Ohlone Indian Songs; translations by Cal professors of classical Chinese poetry; Oakland blues from African Americans during World War II; and poems of Jack London, Josephine Miles, Allen Ginsberg, Gary Snyder, Thornton Wilder, June Jordan, Gertrude Stein, Maxine Hong Kingston, and Czeslaw Milosz, to name but a few.

The Addison Street Anthology: Berkeley's Poetry Walk edited by Robert Hass and Jessica Fisher will be available for purchase, along with Hass's other books.

WORK AND VOLUNTEER OPPORTUNITIES

Share Your Experience and Expertise with Cal Students and Make a Difference in the Lives of Berkeley Youth This Summer

The Retirement Center is partnering with the University's Cal Corps Public Service Center to offer a unique opportunity for retired faculty and staff to volunteer this summer with Cal students working with Berkeley K-8 youth. Cal Corps has created a program (in partnership with the City of Berkeley Mayor's Office) providing literacy tutoring, fitness opportunities and nutrition education for 1,000 low-income youth at twelve sites this summer. If you are interested in reading with kids, cooking, leading trips to the public libraries, or participating in fun exercise (dance, sports, swimming and more) with Berkeley youth, please contact Cal Corps Director Megan Voorhees at Voorhees@berkeley.edu, or at (510)642-3916.

Retiree Work Opportunities Program

The Spring issue of the The Centerpiece publicized an upcoming Retiree Work Opportunities Program (RWO). The Retirement Center and campus Employment Services have now reorganized the program and upgraded the website used during the 2003 pilot. The new fiscal year provides an opportune time to re-launch the website and communicate the program widely to hiring departments and retirees.

The purpose of the program is to assist retirees and hiring managers in making contact with each other to fill short-term, temporary jobs at the Berkeley campus, Lawrence Berkeley National Laboratory, or UC Office of the President. The website will provide a self-service vehicle for retirees and hiring managers to connect directly with each other to meet their mutual short term employment needs.

In July, the Retirement Center and Employment Services plan to jointly offer several kickoff events to demonstrate the website and help retirees and managers connect with each other. Dates and locations for these events are currently being arranged.

If you have not already done so, contact Gloria Parra, Retirement Center program manager, at gjparra@berkeley.edu or (510)642-5461. Your name will be added to the list of individuals interested in temporary work opportunities, and you'll be contacted when the program is introduced in the next few weeks.

Center for Studies in Higher Education: University History Project

This summer, the University History Project of the Center for Studies in Higher Education is initiating a new project that will explore the potential of a campus-based museum dedicated to the history and story of Cal. Dr. Carroll Brentano, University History Project Coordinator, has commissioned an exploratory survey to identify potential collection pieces. Working in collaboration with Dr. Brentano, Karina Robinson, former UCBRC staff member and current graduate student at Arizona State University, will conduct the campus-wide survey, which will focus on individual and departmental collections. This survey will be completed during June and July through a series of interviews with faculty, staff, and students.

If you know of any collections or items that we should know about, please leave a message at (510)643-9210.

The Retiree and Emeriti Associations: Worth Joining?

Association membership is not necessary for participation in Center events. However, in addition to educational luncheons, trips and informative newsletters the Retiree and Emeriti Associations serve a critical advocacy function; they foster the retention and improvement of the benefits and privileges of UC retirees. Strong and large associations guarantee that your voices and concerns will be noticed.

The local associations also participate in the Council of University of California Retiree Associations (CUCRA) and the Council of University of California Emeriti Associations (CUCEA). These systemwide councils actively work to develop communication channels among campus groups and among retirees, emeriti, the President's Office, and the Academic Senate. Here are some examples of what they have accomplished:

- Maintenance of purchasing power for all annuitants—no less than 75% and up to 85% achieved;
- Reduction of the up to 90 day delay between the initiation of a request for a withdrawal from 403(b) and/or defined contribution plans and receipt of funds (current stated goal of 3-5 days);
- Elimination of the University policy which required a beneficiary of a deceased annuitant to withdraw all funds from Regents 403(b) program options within nine months, thereby allowing continuation of the use of such investment options;
- Early and comprehensive notifications (February of each year) of all annuitants reaching or at age 70-1/2 about minimum distribution rules and individual account details;
- Reduction in the delay in providing benefit payments to survivors following the death of an annuitant;
- The conception of the Health Care Facilitator Program, now funded by OP for each campus location;
- Application of a separate rating group for annuitants who reach age 65 and whose spouse is not yet eligible for Medicare, thus cutting costs to such families;
- University re-confirmation that health insurance coverage would continue to be provided to surviving spouses of deceased annuitants;
- Appointment of Chairs of CUCEA and CUCRA to serve on a task force that reviews the fundamentals of the University's health and welfare contribution strategy and considers options for UC's future contribution strategy.

Join today and begin to enjoy the benefits and camaraderie of each organization. For UC Berkeley retirees, applications are available at the Retirement Center Office or on line at: <http://thecenter.berkeley.edu/>. For LBNL retirees, call Bud Larsh at (510)724-1202 or go to: www.lbl.gov/ex-1-express/. For the President's Office and Regents' retirees, contact Karl Droese at (925)376-0468 or at: kdroese@comcast.com.
